

Relief from annoying telemarketing calls, enjoyed by Indiana residents, has been very much appreciated. For the FCC to do anything to thwart this relief would be most unwelcome by the writer and many of my friends and acquaintances.